

How to Finish your Program Self-Study

1. Write a summary in Section 8. Include highlights and important points you made in the self-study. When including these highlights and points, ask yourselves where it is discussed or described in the self-study so you don't include any new material.